

OHM history

Fair Haven bass player Matto founded OHM with a few friends of his in the year 2000 in St. Gallen (Switzerland). He wanted to overcome the playing breaks in between the activities of his other Band. Since the middle of 2005 the OHM line-up is steady, and OHM is a unique and up-raising band.

However, it took many winding roads to get to this point. After the break-up of the original OHM formation Rogör (Catfish) and Matto met, and they jointly decided to reform the band. Quickly the new line-up was found, but soon we figured out that not all of the other musicians had the same goals in mind. Roger stayed on drums, and Matto switched from bass to guitar.

The two of them decided to play originals, and started to put their ideas into songs. The goal was to record a demo CD. The main purpose of recording this CD was to find the right musicians for the vacant jobs. In order to record the CD various friends from their surroundings took on the missing instruments.

With the Demo CD "Anywhere, Somewhere, Nowhere" the two friends began to search for a professional singer. Through an ad in the German Rock Hard Magazin they found Holger.

Shortly thereafter Johanni Brea (Light Bulb Sun) joined on Bass Guitar, and Bernie Küpfer (Fair Haven) on Lead Guitar entered the team. With this line-up OHM started to rise out of the basement onto the stages and clubs of Switzerland. The band started to present their music across Switzerland. OHM plays melodic Heavy Metal / Hard Rock.

'Cause out of a lack of time Johanni left OHM after the "Chaincrusher Tour 2006". However, Johanni was kind enough to play all the bass parts on the final "Fixing The Shadow" record. As a new member of OHM we can welcome Riccardo Bo (Black Rain).

In the beginning of 2007 Sanij joined Ohm as the new singer. At the moment Ohm is getting ready for the new concert season.
